Colonel Fremont.

There is a dis repancy in the biggraphies of the Boston Telegraph, is said to be correct:

"John Charles Fremort was born at Savannah Georgia, January 21, 1813. His parents were residents of Norfors, Va., but at the time of his birth, they were on a journey through the Southern tes. His father was born in France, near Ly. Having been taken prisoner by the English lle on the way to join his relatives in St. Doingo, he afterwards escaped and came to th

Being a young man of fine tasto and considerable skill in painting, he soon made friends and ound employment. At Norfolk, Va., he found he lady who became his wife, and who is deer bed as a young Virginia lady of remarkable cauty. And it is added that they were married outcury to the wishes of her family. John Chas. rement was their eldest child. There were two ther children—a daughter, who died at the age of eventeen, and a son, the youngest child, who ied at the age of twenty.

"Col. Fremont's father died when these childre were all very young, the oldest being but four years of age, leaving his bereaved family in very pendent and destitute circumstances. The from Norfolk to Charleston, S. C., where she fixed her permanent residence."

We have no disposition in the general to med dle with the private history of poople; but when that private history relates to men presented for the bighest office in the gift of the nation, and is rough: to light by the press, it is nothing more han preper that it should be, in the main, cor-set. It is due to truth and history. It would e indoed strange, if so young a man as Colone rement were el coed President, that the simple second of his parentago and birth had either beer ost entirely to history, or so inacourately recorded s to present hardly a single fact correctly. To the good or had fortune, as it may be, of s city, it is connected with the history of Co remont's parentage. About the first of the donary veteran, who had served faithfully in war of the Nevolution. This veteran was Col. an Prycr. He lived on the ground which lies tween the capal and the river, west of the Pa the had there surrounding his honse a garden, where people were admitted for a small fee, and where refreshments could be procured. This was called "Fryor's Garden." The old Colonel was a crim of theums ism, and locomotion to him was Ho moved with a shutling step, and ook a long time to go a very little way—indeed a was a disabled, stiff limbed old soldier, and hi ysical forces had, from exposure and hardship fered no little abatement.

The veteran Col. Pryor, took it into his head hat he needed a wife, and that he would be much etter with one, than to remain a rheumatic of mehelor, with no one to love, or rather no one aread his linen and sew on his buttons. So ught the hand in marriage of a young girl-wl ne was it is not material to know; nor does our i. rmant remember whether the was very beauti uit of the veteran soldier, and became Mrs. Pryor mistress of the garder, and mistress of a long amed building, said to have resembled very muhat dwelling so long occupied by the late Jamesray, and which was pulled down to make room or the fine dwellings of Mr. John Mabin and the c'ed by Mr. Gray. Its main feature was a some hat spacious apartment in the center. On eithand were long wings, of smaller dimensions, ex opt their length, than the center. Wo are the more particular in describing the building, because, as will be seen, a lodgment was made in one of these efficer by an enemy of the Colonel's domestic happiness.

At this time, there lived in Richmond a French teacher named Fremon, who taught in the seadony of the celebrated French scholar and gentlemen (installing M. Fremon).

It is proper to add that Col. Pryor, after so cooling over the bad treatment he suffered in the desertion of his wife, assumed his guief by mar-ying an ther young women, who remained with inn until his death—be dring, it is hardly necessa y to add, without issue. The abduction of his first rife by the Frenchman, who showed not the slight est regard for his prior claims, was a soro subo the old Colonel. At a recent Democratic publication meeting remont, which have been published, as to his heldatt nix ille, Tontessee, and gatthe spakers birth place. Some of the accounts state that he were three Old-Line Whigs. The following exwas born in Virginia, others in South Carolina, treet from the proceedings of the meeting will and others again in Georgia. The following, from show the grounds on which they base their support of Mr. Buchanan:

Up:n the conclusion of Major Ramsey's speech loud calls were made for Colonel John R. Nelson. This venerabel call Whig, who, for more than a quarter of a century, has done battle for the old whig party—who had the confidence and respect of his party—in fact, his been lo ked up to as the original Whig of Knox county—anne forward to the stand. His venerable appearance, his trackness and earnestness of manner, at once secured him audience. He said but little; the sum of his earlier unser his emblishment his emblishment his confidence of the said to the the s ntire speech is emb died in the conclusion of he femarks, pronounced with all the emphasis of his unture: I cannot, and will not fellow-citizens, so clp me God, support or act in complicity with he Know-Nothing party. No; never, never, never.' Col. Nelson announced his determination support Buchanan and Breckinrilge with all Col. John H. Crezier was next vecifor usly

The Colonel 14, and has been, as you well know, an Old-Line Whig, his has hitherto ought Democracy to the hitter end; has repreented his county in the Legislature and this con-ressional listrict in the national Congress. His ame and fame are familiar to the cople of the hale State. His appearance in the presence of Democratic meeting, advocating their candidates, hat I never witnessed before. Upon taking the tand, Col. Crozier, in a very carnest and conclu-ivo manner, insisted, and I think, demonstrated, hat there exist at present but two parties in the mintry, (and that between there there can be n country, (and that between these succession on a middle ground) the Abolition and anti-Abolition parties. The Democratic party, he said, by its platform and its nominations, had placed then in itreet, positive, and unmistanable antagnism to the Abolition party; that the times demanded that me party should take this position; the civil trite in Kansas—the howlings in Northern pul ats and Northern assemblies over the chastise ent of Sumper-the infusion insidiously nti-slavery scattiments into susceptible Southern ainds by every instrumentality which Northern agenuity could devise—demanded imperatively hat the people of the South, who desired the crepetuity of the Union, and a a efficient admidrative recognition of their constitutional right hould act together as one Man. To do this, of party associations must be forgotten, to being, and every man, no matter by what party name designated, should take his position in the party which has had the boldness to place itself in pin, underguised histility to this growing, men-trous hydrs of the North. In this struggie, said is, there can be no neutrality, and heace he did t besitate to declare it to be his intention to for Buchenan and Brookingidge.

TORCH PROCESSION. TWO THOUSAND DEMOCRATS ASTIR.

The Torch Light procession, on Saturday even ng, was one of the most imposing pageants ever witnessed in Indianapolis. It was one of those scenes that speak frumpet-tongued of the union hard only, encludes am, and invincible determina-tion coat pervades the Democratic ranks. Even democrate were sugarised to soo a dem extration so grand and impering, with so short a notice and so little provious proparation. The procession first formed at the courbouse square, in two dions, one headed by the Mulitary Band, and other by the Brass hand. Marching thence through Washington street to the Governor's C.r There were eight hundred of the former and forty of the latter. The motion and devices upon the transparencies were not only appropriate, but I argningance. The sentiments expressed many of them were brief, but terse exp the fundamental principles of the Democracy.

From the Cycle, the procession again mov through the principal streets of the city, receiving accessing to its numbers as it swept enward in street to street. Judging from the comparati number of these who carried totales as I the the wit le number in processi nat 1500 to 1 Besiles these, there were many stationed on th side wolks at various points—who, at all times, a found among the rank and file of the Demorrac On the whole, the affair of Saturday evening w one of the largest and most enthusiastic "to-outs" over witne- ed in our cir. The Clack Papers -- No. 3.

Not long ago, the following letter was received by a gentleman in the country from his daughter, neice of Mr. Cinck, who had been spending a short season with her relatives in this city: My Duan Father: - You cen't imagine how anxious I am to get home. I have seen quite eneugh of the city, and then, since Uncle has left aunt ("ack for parts unknown, it is drerry enough.

You may like to know some of the particulars

at evening, about seven e'clok. It made the discovery that aunt Clarks' morals and t ac uple of Sam's dissiples, without the manners were not as they should be, and that his bur of the Dutch or the law, entered own prace and happiness not only, but the good of c affected id, and commenced fighting and little Nannie, required a change. They had such a up generally, moving everybody and time when became to announce to aunt Clack his g wishing their reach. The Chief of determination, not to "put her away," as he said sever, seen made his appearance, and but to put himself away-not to make her "walk their antise to a summary close, by Spanish," but to take "French leave" himself. e offenders to juil. And then how slie would never buy goods where there were not handsome clerks, and how she liked to fumble ever goods with them whether she wanted to buy anything or not. Then she would say to Uncle, as I have heard her very ofter, "Oh, what pretty blue eyes that fellow had !" or "what | ret-'y whiskers!" and all such foolish remarks about the counter jumpers-it really made me ashamed of her. Then Uncle would look to sad, and she on noticing it, would seem to be delighted by the annoyance it desseioned the poor man. In fact she always liked to annoy him, and would say it did her good to see him find fault and groundle. At times, however, when she had some object to rain, she would meet him in the most fon I way, using soft and honeyed words, and put her hatchet face up to his in the most gentle and bewitching manner: and what astonished me was, he would be busiched. I am satisfied that nothing but this happerisy of her's over kept him with her so long. But I'm lo at last discovered her tricks, and I never heard him say that aunt Clack was s) well skilled in dissimulation that he believed "if it were possible, the would descive the very elect." But I was going to tell what passed at the final ntorview-I do remble so. Aunt Clack accu.ed Uncle of being very wicked, defring God and man in breaking his marriage vows; when he said she ad violated bers also, which she denied. He said she had before God promised to ovey him, but had never done so. The obedience, he said, had always been on the other ride. Aunt Clack said, too, that he was an infidel, as shown in not going to church with her, &c. Uncle, however, denied he was a shed leader of the cid Whig ; arry, de- disbeliever in religion, but he said he wasn't a believer in her kind, and he judged by the rich fruits he had witnessed-that while Aunt Clark might be very pious, she was very immeral. He admitted that he had at one time had some doubte about riginal ser, but he had charged bis views n that subject, and now he firmly believed in original sin, and that her's was, no doubt, of that kind, for he had never seen any other like it.

M. P. CLARKSON. Opening of the Blue Lick Springs. TUREMAN & HUGHES, PROPRIETORS.

WHESE GENTLEMEN HAVE inst completed an arrangement with the owners of this far-famed flotel and Mineral Spring, and will open it for the reception of visitors on the 18th day of June. This very extensive flotel and buildings occupy a heansiful situation upon the banks of the Lieking from Baria, Kentucky, twenty miles from Baria, Kentucky, upon the Covinston and Lexington railroad, and twenty-four miles from Mayaville, on the Chio river. There are excellent macadamized roads, and the roomy coaches leave each place every day for the Springs. This well-known Watering Place is celebrated for the superior and valuable properties of its water, for its delightful and leading situation, and for its romantic drives and walks. The Hotel is very large, and constructed with an eye to comfort and convenience. Its immeuse range of balconies and promeudes, its fine grounds (in an excellent state of cultivation and full of beautiful shade trees), its superior and convenient batha, its large and commodicus stables. &c., all tend to make Blue Licks the most delightful attractive, and pleasant summer retreat in the West. rest. The proprietors have entirely renovated the Hetel and grounds. The furniture is new and good, and bey ean gromise, from their long experience in eaternate to the state and comfort of the public, that the cuse shall be kept in a style inferior to no little in the West.
